

TEAM Work Symposium:
Teach ELLs with Academics in Mind
“Braiding the Strands for English Language Learners”
September 19 and 20, 2008
MSU Moorhead

Time: Friday, Sept. 19 Pre-conference begins at 9:00 am, symposium at 5:30 pm
Saturday, Sept. 20 Symposium continues from 9:00 am until 5:00 pm

Credit: One credit for the entire pre-conference and conference. CEUs are available.

Who: Administrators, classroom teachers, higher education, paraprofessionals, ESL teachers, and anyone who works with ELLs

Strands: Getting Started Teaching English Language Learners
The Transition to Higher Education
Advanced Scholarship and Education for ESL Teachers

Keynote and Pre-conference Trainer: Dr. Sylvia Linan Thompson

Dr. Linan Thompson specializes in the oral language and literacy development in English Language learners and the 3-tiered model of reading. She had developed and examined reading interventions for struggling readers who are English speakers as well as for English language learners. Her pre-conference training will address reading interventions for English Language Learners.

Saturday Concurrent Sessions: Educators may submit a proposal to present a 40 or 90 minute presentation under one of the strands. All proposals must be received by June 13, 2008.

Registration Form and Conference Prices

Questions: Contact MSU Moorhead Continuing Studies at 218-477-5862 or contstdy@mnstate.edu